

John A. Price II – Bio

John has extensive experience as a classroom instructor. His qualifications include the following:

- Military Packaging Professional, certified by the School of Military Packaging Technology (SMPT), Aberdeen Proving Ground, MD and the National Institute of Packaging, Handling and Logistic Engineers (NIPHLE).
- Area Off Campus Instructor (AOI), School of Military Packaging Technology, APG, MD.
- Packaging Specialist and Supervisory General Supply Specialist at the Hazardous Material Processing Section, Defense Logistics Agency, Defense Distribution Depot Susquehanna Pennsylvania (DDSP), New Cumberland, PA.
- Hazardous materials training instructor for United Nations Performance Oriented Packaging (POP), Code of Federal Regulations Title 49 (CFR), International Maritime Dangerous Goods (IMDG), International Aircraft Transportation Association (IATA), and Air Force Manual AFMAN 24-204.
- Facilitator and Instructor for the Defense Distribution Management Course (DDMC), Ft. Lee, VA.
- Instructor for certifying wood requirements (commercial and DOD) under the International Phytosanitary Measures for wood export (ISPM-15).
- International instructor (USSOUTHCOM) for distribution of disaster relief supplies to Caribbean and Central American nations.

John has taught numerous other courses relating to:

- Environmental Reporting for EPA
- Emergency First Responder/Awareness level
- Packing Guidelines for Transportation
- Electrostatic Discharge Sensitive (ESDS) packaging/handling

As an active duty U.S Army Medical Parachutist, and former EMT/Paramedic for the Department of Defense, he has given formal and informal classes on field and clinical topics such as emergency medical care and treatment, cardiac output, chest/lung injuries, and CPR training to name a few.

He has been a guest speaker for the Advanced Packaging Course (SMPT) at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, MD and at this year's NIPHLE conference Charleston, SC.

John holds an Associate's Degree in Science from York College of Pennsylvania. He resides with his wife, Kay, in East Berlin, PA.